

Dear All,

With great pleasure, we announce that the first INQUA-MARE Workshop, “Antarctic Realm”, will be held completely on line from November 29th to December 1st, 2021.

The objective of INQUA-MARE is to bring together researchers studying recent (Holocene) sediment records from the Arctic, Antarctic and the Tropics, as these regions are linked by thermohaline circulation and atmospheric teleconnection. As these areas are the most sensitive to climate change, we feel the need to let researchers working on these records meet and discuss their results, their research methods, and to maximise their efforts by enlarging their scientific network. We want to bring together researchers from the broader fields of paleoceanography because we are convinced that only through an interdisciplinary project we can get to an exhaustive and deep understanding of the phenomena we study.

This first INQUA-MARE workshop will be held online using the platform Zoom, with the following schedule:

Date	Theme	1 pm UTC (2 pm CET)	1:30 pm UTC (2:30 pm CET)	15 mins interval	2:45 pm UTC (3:45 pm CET)	3:15 pm UTC (4:15 pm CET)
		- 1:30 pm UTC (2:30 pm CET)	- 2:30 pm UTC (3:30 CET)		- 3:15 pm UTC (4:15 pm CET)	- 4:15 pm UTC (5:15 pm CET)
29 th November	Age Model and Proxies	1 st keynote	Oral session		2 nd keynote	Poster session
30 th November	Oceanography and Modelling	1 st keynote	Oral session		2 nd keynote	Poster session
1 st December	Expeditions, databases and Sorting centers	1 st keynote	Oral session		2 nd keynote	Round table/ Workshop closure

Also, the poster session will be held online using the platform Mighty Networks.

Will will send further information concerning abstract submission and deadlines soon.

Besides sending you details on the event via e-mail, we will post additional news on INQUA-MARE Social profiles, so please, follow us on Twitter and Facebook!
